

The current issues around Covid-19 in China

This summarises discussions with policy-makers, academics and students in China, about the main issues of importance regarding Covid-19

Preventability at the start: was Covid-19 preventable? Students in particular criticised the delay in the response, probably resulting from the silencing of whistleblowers, of

ials, a vaccine has been used in China since July, initially in

