

The Intellectual case for Brexit: a lawyer's view.
Richard Aikens

I start by asking some questions about what YOU and other citizens of member states of the EU want from it. FIRST QUESTION: Do you want a

Fed(i)E (r) - 0 Tm S thw B (s) Ac (0n) T (s) 1 (2) M C P K ICID 2 BDC Tw - 0 -2.4 (s) -1.7 (o)

BUT the preamble of the TEU states its objective as being: “European integration”;

Times

First

WHO DECIDES WHEN THE EU HAS TAKEN OVER A SHARED COMPETENCE

The answer is tucked away in a Protocol to TFEU. It is t

The most obvious is the European Charter of Fundamental Rights.

Times,

the EU Constitution

Factortame

Benkharbouche

Gauweiler

Thirdly

The Council

get together a government after thrashing out a joint programme based, effectively, on who has won what seats on what policies in the general election.

I disagree

Are those objections enough to pull the house down so to speak?

